You should spend some time researching the company. You can get the information by having a look at their website. Knowing a lot about the company makes you feel confident when you are asked about the company in the interview. And it also allows you to ask questions.

You can go to the company the day before to find out how long the journey will take. You should also plan another way of arriving there so that if something unexpected happens (for example, a traffic jam), you can still get there on time.

Decide what to wear for the interview and get the clothes ready. You don't have to buy a new suit. Cleanness and tidiness are the most important things to remember when you are choosing clothes.

We all know doing exercise makes us healthy. But many of us don't know which is better, to exercise in the day or at night. Dr. Yang, a famous sleep doctor, advises people to do outdoor exercise for at least 30 minutes a day in the daytime.

Dr. Yang has been doing research on sports and sleep for years. He finds out that those who exercise in natural light for half an hour every day have better sleep and more energy. Dr. Yang himself gets up at 6:30 a. m. Then he usually takes a walk outside. Sometimes, he walks his two dogs in the park in the afternoon with his sunglasses left at home.

Many schools put Dr. Yang's findings into practice. They made it a rule that students should do outdoor exercise once or twice a day. In some schools, students even formed outdoor running clubs.
